Apacer Technology has announced the release of the AH225 USB 2.0 Flash Drive. This drive has a number of unique features.

The Apacer AH225 Flash Drive can be used like a fridge magnet as it has a magnetic cap. So users will be able to stick it to the side of a metallic PC, desk or shelf. Moreover, it can also be placed on a desk to hold a memo or business card.

When not in use, this transparent colored magnetic cap can be pushed on to the tail end of the USB Drive, while the drive is in use, so there won't be worries about losing the cap. It has a circular design that adds a new flair to work environment.

The AH225 USB flash drive puts a different spin on office organization because it not only offers the valuable storage for digital files but also places critical information in one easy-to-find location with its magnetic cap. It's unique memo stand function posts office memos to any magnetized office partition. The special transparent cap can also intakes and holds up memos with a built-in crevice along it ridge.

The Apacer AH225 USB drive comes in several storage capacities of 512MB, 1GB, 2GB and 4GB.

The drive also features a green LED indicator that flashes during USB detection and data transmission. Full support for "plug&play" hot swapping as well as USB 2.0 high speed file transfers complete the features of the Apacer AH225 drive.

According to Apacer's Product Director, C.K. Chang,

"Apacer has differentiated itself again as it has created the AH225 USB flash drive which adds more than just ordinary storage functionality, it's breakthrough design achieves decisive organization."
