

SEARCH NEWS

HEADLINES

- Nintendo Brain Training 'good for kids'
- Product alert: 3 Skypephone announced
- Research faces 'perfect storm' of data
- University calls for intellectual property rethink
- Internet heading for a fall, says founder
- Hackers turbocharge password cracks with

LATEST NEWS

Home > News > Product alert: New MP3 device from Apacer

more breaking IT news at iTnews

<<Back to search results

Product alert: New MP3 device from Apacer

By Ed Dawson, PCA 29 October 2007 03:58PM

Email to a friend Print this story

Apacer Technology has announced a new model of MP3 device, the Apacer Audio Steno AU240.

Looking something like a slick executive dictaphone, this is actually a classy leather-finished MP3 player with a blue backlit liquid crystal display. It's the size of a USB thumbdrive, but with much nicer finishing and form factor. Also, with its male USB connector, you don't need to cart around a cable to connect it to a PC.

advertisement

Telstra Broadband Solutions - Fixed and Mobile

More

Apacer
Audio
Steno
AU240

Specific:

76mm x
26mm x
12.8mm;

1GB, 2GB or 4GB onboard capacity; MP3 & WMA music file support; 6 EQ presets; claimed 6 hours music playback; USB 2.0 and male connector; 30g

Price: 1GB: $45, 2GB: $65, 4GB: $99 (RRP)